DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1,5 and 7 are objected to because of the following informalities: there is no antecedent basis for the terms “the associated unvulcanized materials” (claims 1 and 7) and “the line” (claim 5). Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: numeral 56 is not shown. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1,4-7 and 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear whether the claims are directed to a liner per se as set forth in lines 1 of claims 1 and 7, or to the combination of a liner and unvulcanized materials as suggested by the phrase “the associated unvulcanized materials ...” in claims 1 and 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Foster. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. The phrase “adapted to store...” does not add any structural features to the claimed article. The reference's article is comprised of two different materials (and portions), which would inherently have different propensities to stick to another material.

6. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 90/08708. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. The phrase “adapted to store...” does not add any structural features to the claimed article. The reference's article is comprised of two different materials (and portions), which would inherently have different propensities to stick to another material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 90/08708. The reference discloses the invention substantially as claimed, namely two different materials attached to each other which would inherently have different propensities to stick to another material; see Figure 1 and page 3, lines 13-19. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use any well-known materials, such as cotton and polyester, as the permeable layer and the polymer layer, respectively, in the article of the reference depending on the desired structural properties and cost considerations.

9. Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 90/08708 in view of Rothrum et al 6,187,126. The primary reference discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, it uses adhesive to attach the two pieces together not stitching. The primary reference does state that any conventional technique may be use to bond the pieces together; see page 4, lines 23-26. The secondary reference discloses the structural equivalence of adhesive and stitching when connecting two layers together; see column 7, lines 9-14. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use stitching in the article of the primary reference to connect the two pieces together in view of the structural equivalence of stitching and adhesive bonding.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
